DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 10/23/2009 has been entered.

Response to Amendment

Claims 1-11 are canceled.

Claims 15-20 are withdrawn.

Claim 12 is amended.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Re-claim 12, it is not clear how does the seal (4) contact the enlarged diameter of the housing bore when the enlarged diameter of the housing bore is located on the top of the third bore step (3) and the seal itself is located on the first bore step (1) as shown in fig. 2.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 12-14 and 21-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Starr et al. (US 6,203,117 B1) in view of Sorensen (US 5,741,049).

Regarding claims 12-14 and 21-23, Starr discloses a piston-type accumulator (fig. 3), comprising:

a housing (19) that includes a stepped housing bore (fig. 3; please note the stepped bore above 107, the stepped bore 105, the stepped bore below 105 near the end of the cap 130 and the bore 102 and 106), the stepped housing bore having an enlarged diameter (105) at an end that is closed by a cover (130);

Art Unit: 3657

a seal (134 and 124);

wherein an outer rim of the cover (132) also fits within the enlarged diameter and is secured in position by plastically deforming the housing (107) such that it folds over a periphery of the cover (see fig. 3); and an axially movable piston (104) disposed in the bore (fig. 3).

Starr discloses all claimed elements as set forth above including a seal that simultaneously contacts the piston and the cover, but it does not simultaneously contacts the enlarged diameter of the housing bore as claimed. However, Sorensen discloses a similar system (fig. 7) having an end of a cover (349) that contacts the seal (343), the piston (329 and 339) and the housing bore (fig. 7) as claimed. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to make the seal of Starr contacts the cover, the piston and the bore as taught by Sorensen because such arrangement will allow an easy access to the seal just by removing the cover without destroying the housing if the seal need to be replaced and further it will replace the extra seal and the ring of Starr thus making the system more efficient and user friendly.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 12-14 and 21-23 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
